

Project Title:

Government Scheme Eligibility & Benefit Tracking Wallet

Abstract:

This project is a digital platform designed to help Indian citizens—especially those from rural or economically weaker sections—discover and track their eligibility for various central and state government welfare schemes. Users can check eligibility through rule-based logic (not ML), manage their documents, and monitor the application status of each scheme. The system also supports social workers managing multiple families and includes an admin panel for scheme and user management.
